

Experts come in

ConJoin Group, an investment and management consulting firm, has appointed two executives to oversee the company's financial and operational functions. Manoj Aggarwal will serve as chief financial officer, while Harjeet Singh Khanduja joins the company as head of talent engagement and development. Aggarwal is a financial strategist with more than 20 years experience in financial management in both a strategic and operational capacity across a number of industries including information technology, IT-enabled services, telecommunications and manufacturing. He was earlier chief financial officer of Wipro Technologies, where he managed financial reporting, planning and analysis, and implemented processes, procedures and cost controls.

Khanduja, on the other hand, has 13 years of human resources experience, creating and maintaining the HR function for small, medium and large organisations at various stages of growth. Most recently, he served as Head of HR for Reliance Industries Solar Group, where he built the leadership counsel and managed human resources. ◆
